COUNTY DOCTOR MATTER

Supervisors Make Recommendations for Change of County Doctor

1st. That the County pay to the County Clerk in quarterly payments, at the rate of $1,500 a year, the sum of $1,500 per annum to be divided, by him among the doctors of the county pro rata according to the services rendered by each one, and that no patient shall be called a County patient except that said be O. K'd, by the supervisor of the township in which they live. This amount of money to be paid for visits at homes of the poor only.

2nd. That the County pay to the Jane McAllister Hospital, $1,500 a year for caring for the cases sent to the hospital by the doctors, and that hospital patients shall receive medical care free.

The above is the substance of the recommendation made by the Lake County Medical Society's special committee headed by Dr. Taylor, Libertyville, as a means of changing the care of the county poor, instead of having them under the care of one doctor, a county doctor, Dr. Brown having had the contract the past year. The chairman presented the recommendation to the board and a heated discussion followed. Dr. Brown had occasion to state twice "Dr. Taylor is falsifying, absolutely falsifying," when Dr. Taylor stated that Dr. Brown had approved the naming of the special committee at the medical meeting, Highland Park, when the committee was named to design a means of changing the care of the poor. President Dr. Roberts, Highland Park, Dr. Foley and Dr. Bouton, Waukegan, also addressed the board. Officials of the new town, Lake Villa, presented a communication to the board asking that the board authorize them to spend certain money to make needed bridge improvements in the town, this permission being asked because of the quo warranto proceedings which have been started in Circuit court questioning the legality of the new town. If the proceedings should be declared invalid, then the officials would personally be responsible for bills incurred hence that request for authorization from the board. Referred to committee on bridges, power to act.

PLANS MODEL DAIRY NEAR ROCKEFELLER

Mrs. Rebecca Carlson Holcomb, who learned dairying on a farm in Wisconsin when she was a girl, will establish what she declares will be the model stock farm of Illinois at Rockefeller, Lake county, to be stocked with cows, of pure strain from the Island of Guernsey, says a Milwaukee dispatch. Her daughter, Miss Dorothy Holcomb, well known to society of the north shore, is to be assistant.

SPIRIT FRUIT FARM SOLD TO CHAS. CARPENTER

The transfer of the Spirit Fruit farm at Wooster Lake, Grant township, was recorded in the recorder's office Tuesday, the consideration being $36,000, the deed being to Charles Carpenter. This is the old Beilhart colony place. It had been known for some time that a sale was contemplated and, with its consummation, it means that the colony established by Jacob Beilhart will at once depart from Lake county. There are 260 acres in the farm which, had not Beilhart died, promised to be one of the most unusual colonies in the world.

The feature of the community was that the members did not believe in marriage, their belief being that relations should be based on love only.

Lost Money by Dishonesty.
Some years ago, when silver had a much higher value than at present and the Mexican dollar was worth intrinsically about 95 cents, a counterfeit Mexican dollar came into the possession of the United States assayers at the Philadelphia mint. They assayed the coin and found it to be worth intrinsically $1.00. It seems that the mine from which the counterfeiters got their metal produced silver that was strong in gold. Thus the forgers lost money by making counterfeit.

Remains of Old Civilization.
Scattered throughout the Carolina islands, notably at Ponape and Lele, are massive ruins, one of a sort of Venetian, whose origin is wrapped in mystery. Hundreds of acres in some localities are covered by the remains of walls, canals and earthwork of a stupendous character. There are old roads paved with stone blocks, ancient stone platforms, and on the lagoons ruins of what were once fish wells. The islands offer a rich field for the archeologist.

MOTOR BOAT OWNERS PAY FINES

U. S. Custom Inspector Arch
McArthur Finds Many are Violating the Laws

FINES ASSESSED ARE HIGH

One Hundred Dollars Lowest Fine and
This Can Reach as High as Five Hundred Dollars or More

Motorboat owners in the Fox River region in Lake county are finding out that it is quite a serious matter to violate the government provisions with regard to their boats. Within the last week or two several owners of boats have been fined from $100 to $200 for violations. The following lakes are included in the Fox river region: Pistakee bay, Fox lake, Long lake, Petite lake, Grass lake, Lake Marie, Bluff lake and Channel lake.

Following are violations which are quite common in the lake region and for which several motorboat owners have been fined.

1. Running at night without lights.
2. Not being properly equipped with life preservers.
3. Not having proper fire extinguishers.
4. Not being provided with a whistle.
5. Not being provided with a bell.

Arch McArthur of Waukegan, United States custom inspector, has made several trips into the lake region already this spring and has boarded many of these small crafts. His reports have been sent to Washington and in cases where he found violations the owners of the boat were promptly fined. Each of the above named violations constitutes a separate offense for which a penalty of $100 may be made. Thus, if the owner of the boat had none of the equipment required by the laws he would be subject to a fine of $600.

Most common violation, according to inspector McArthur, is that of not having proper fire extinguishers. That boats are not so equipped is more a matter of carelessness than anything else because of a good sized pail of salt and sand, labelled "for fire extinguishing purposes," constitutes a proper extinguisher and is passed upon favorably by any inspector. This equipment cost but a few cents and the failure to have it might cost the boat owner $100.

The customs inspector paid a visit to the lake region last fall and warned the owners of the boats, telling them what they might expect. This apparently did not suffice, for he found several unprepared when he swooped down upon them the last two or three Sundays.

The owners of motorboats in Waukegan all have complied with the government regulations and are perfectly safe along this line. With regard to life preservers the government requires that one life preserver must be carried for every passenger on the boat. Overloading is another violation which is subject to penalty.

Foolish Self-Condensation.
No comfort for the living or the dead can be won from vain self-condemnation. No consolation can be gained while you nurse the imagining that a certain trouble might have been avoided. What we have to do is to try to escape from other troubles that are truly avoidable—troubles of a useless remorse, a present neglect, a listless apathy that will not reach forth for the good things still to be gathered.—Exchange.

COUNTY TREASURER MATTER UP

Supervisors Likely to Include
All Previous Treasurers
in Investigation

PROSECUTOR TO TEST CASE

Action to Test Right of Westerfield to Retain Interest on County Money and Inheritance Tax

Because States Attorneys Dady was not present, a motion made by supervisor Eger before the supervisors Wednesday morning instructing the prosecutor to begin suit against Treasurer Westerfield to test the legality of him retaining interest on county funds and inheritance tax fees, was withdrawn. Mr. Dady will be present Thursday morning at 10 o'clock when he will be asked to formulate a motion embodying Mr. Eger's ideas, and from the expression on the board the friendly suit to test the points of contentions in this matter, will be passed.

But, the motion, judging from what various supervisors say, will be wider in its scope before it is put. They state that they intend to make the investigation a test case to include not only Treasurer Westerfield's regime but also all previous treasurer's who retained interest on funds (and every one did it), and their bondsmen as well.

The fact that the supervisors are thinking of including all previous treasurers and their bondsmen in this friendly suit, makes the matter one of wider importance and the consensus of opinion among board members is that if Mr. Westerfield is accountable for interest on funds and his bondsmen, then his predecessors are in the same boat, and if the present treasurer is held to the county for interest on his funds, then the county is entitled to recover interest in the former cases.

When the matter came up Wednesday King explained that he had been unable to learn how much interest is paid the county treasurer by banks which carry the accounts, but it will run from $3,000 to $5,000.

Maether felt Lake county should wait to see how the test cases in Cook and other counties terminate before taking action. Eger explained the cases were not parallel, then made his motion but withdrew it when it was suggested that the state's attorney better outline the motion as he wishes it.

King suggested the whole matter was friendly, that therefore it might be planned to lay it before a court on an agreed statement of facts, because, in the usual routine it would take a year for disposition.

SLAVE-HOLDING AMONG ANTS

Custom Has Long Been Known, and Method of Procuring Such Servants Shows Intelligence.

Many of the large ants are slaveholders, and curiously enough, the slaves are almost black! When a colony of ants requires slaves a regular army is formed, skirmishers are thrown out and scouts are sent ahead to discover a nest of black ants and look over the ground. The invading army is composed entirely of warrior ants, with powerful jaws, quite different from the common workers. When the nest of the intended victims is reached a fierce battle at once takes place and many are killed and wounded on both sides. The more powerful invaders are always victorious, however, and entering the nest of the vanquished blacks, they rob it of eggs and pupae, which they carry off to slavery in their own home. The returning victors are welcomed upon their arrival with various manifestations of joy, and the young of the defeated foes are taken within and carefully tended until fully grown. Strangely enough, the slaves thus obtained are willing and obliging servants, doing all the harder work of the community, even to feeding their captors. Indeed, some species of slaveholding ants are incapable of feeding themselves and if it were not for their slaves they would die of starvation, even in the midst of plenty.—From "Book for Young Naturalists," by Alpheus Hyatt Verill.

CASHES FORGED CHECKS

Discovery at Libertyville That Checks on Fence Co. are Forgeries

Discoveries that forgeries of checks of the American Fence company at Libertyville were discovered Monday and as a result the company has engaged Chicago detectives to try to locate Frank Clarke and Robert McFarland, two workmen, who went to work in the factory about ten months ago.

These men left the factory Friday last and were seen in the village as late as Wednesday. Since then they have not been seen.

Friday S. D. Zook, superintendent of the factory, happened to be in the Lake County National bank when the company's balance was overdrawn. Zook insisted that it could not be and the president produced checks which the bank had honored. In glancing through them Zook found several which were not countersigned by him, that is, the signature under the rubber stamp, he declared were forgeries. Investigation showed that someone had procured the stamp and had forged his name to checks which already aggregated over $300 and it is feared more may be located.

The bank at once sent the forged checks to Chicago experts who declare they were such perfect pieces of work that they could not distinguish them from the original.

Inquiry about the city showed that Clarke and McFarland had cashed the company's checks about the place before they left and that is what points suspicion to them. Chicago detectives were told of the forgeries and the men are being sought. Both are machinists.

SAVED FROM DROWNING

Singer at Fox Lake Rescues Two People
Last Week

"Bob" Dailey, a well known singer who holds forth at the Colonial Casino at Fox Lake, proved himself quite a hero one evening last week when he plunged into the waters of Nippersink lake and rescued two persons who were in imminent danger of drowning. There is a narrow turbulent creek connecting Nippersink and Pistakee lakes which flows under the railroad bridge, maintaining an exceedingly swift current.

It seems that two persons, a man and a woman, seated in a row boat were using this treacherous stream as a means of passing from one lake to the other and when they arrived at the bridge the boat suddenly shifted from its course, turning crosswise, dumping the occupants into the water, while the boat proceeded down the stream toward Pistakee lake. They had the good fortune to be able to come in contact with the supports of the bridge; hanging on for dear life while the swiftly flowing water held their bodies almost in a perpendicular position. Mr. Dailey succeeded in capturing the boat and endeavoring to row up the stream against the current, and rescued the persons from their perilous position, but the boat being partly submerged promptly sank under his weight and he was compelled to swim to shore and enter the water from a position above the bridge and swim down to the persons to be rescued. Grabbing the man he advised the woman to hang on to him and after a heroic struggle he finally towed them to shore.

OVERWORK BRINGS OLD AGE

No Human Being Was Meant to Labor
on and On Without the Proper Rest.

Industry's a fine thing, but a virtue may easily run to seed and become a fault. And don't work too fast. Don't rush. Take things quietly and steadily. Don't excite yourself over every little trifle. It's the mean and petty traits of character very often that bring lines and wrinkles to the most open face—the small spite, the petty jealousies. They have a knack of steadily and surely eating up all that is sound and wholesome in the character. And as moral life reacts physically, premature age comes on with all its undesirable signs. Keep your temper under control. A burst of passion often does one incalculable harm. It jars the nerves and upsets the whole constitution. Very hysterical people are frequently quite prostrate for days after an outburst of temper.

Wrinkles are often caused by facial contortion—manerisms, like constantly lifting the eyebrows, when talking, frowning when in thought, twisting the mouth up and that sort of thing. Try to cultivate the reposeful face. It need not be wooden or expressionless. Not a bit of it. But talk with your mouth, not with every muscle of your face.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BURNED WHILE FIGHTING FIRE

Mrs. Herman Meyers of Fox
Lake is Burned in Saving
Husband's Boat House

ROLLS HERSELF IN CREEK

Clothes Caught Fire as She, Single Handed, Attempted to Save Property
Which was All Ablaze

Fire caused much damage in the plant in the Fox Lake Boat company at Pistakee Lake Thursday noon and it is said that the whole plant would have been destroyed excepting for the heroism and thoughtfulness of the wife of the owner of the plant, Mrs. Herman Meyers, who is now in a Chicago hospital being treated for injuries she suffered in fighting the blaze.

The fire was caused by an explosion of gasoline in the factory of the company and the owner's wife happened to be near at hand and she started to save the building. Immediately the woman's dress caught on fire and in order to save her life she rushed into a creek, rolled in the water and returned to combat the fire but again she saved herself by using the creek.

All this time she was unable to make use of the fire hose which was connected with the power engine which supplies the factory with water. She remembered that her husband had blocked up the entrance therefore she knew that to get pressure, she must get the pipe opened so that water could be obtained. This done she was able to get water through the fire hose. But it took time and the fire gained good headway before help arrived.

Mrs. Meyers was taken to her home after the fire had subsided refusing to leave before then. It was found her burns were serious although not necessarily fatal. She was rushed to a Chicago hospital where she is being cared for.

The Meyers home is about 400 feet from the factory. The workmen had all gone to Fox Lake, to repair some boats. The company makes no boats, devoting its time to repair work.

The Fox Lake fire department was called to the scene later but it is said they could do little to help save the buildings which were laid in ruins before the fire was finally controlled.

Church Notes

All those attending the pipe organ recital will be given a beautiful souvenir program, containing not only the program of the evening, but also the special program arranged for the following Sunday.

Mr. Ernest O. Todd, who has been engaged as soloist for the pipe organ recital here on Saturday evening, July 5, has for some time been prominent in musical circles as tenor soloist. He has had a wide experience in oratorio and concert field. He is a member of the faculty of the Bush Temple Conservatory. He is Director of Music and soloist at the Ravenswood M. E. Church (one of the oldest organized churches in Chicago.) Mr. Todd's voice is lyric in quality and he is equally at home in Oratorio or Recital. In the latter field his interpretation of ancient and modern ballads has brought him into prominence.

Very Many Like Him.

Sometimes children are more observant than they are credited with being. Little Rob's mother, for instance, was telling a visitor how "masterful" another neighbor was in his home life when Rob, unnoticed beside her, put in his little oar. "I don't think Mr. Tate is so awful bossy, mamma," he remarked suddenly. "Course he does a lot of talking, but he never makes Mrs. Tate do a thing she doesn't want, I've noticed that."

Only Changes Needed.

The other day my 6 year old brother, who has a fat chubby hand, was trying on my kid gloves. He found they were too tight for him and when asked if he could wear them he said: "No, but if some of the too long side was on the wide I could wear them."—Exchange.

AEROPLANES IN THE NAVY

THE CURTIS HYDRO-AEROPLANE

WHEN a naval aviator, Lieut. Ellyson, was launched in an aeroplane from a catapult recently and his flying machine bore him gracefully aloft without slightest tendency toward stumbling it marked an important advance in the use of airships in the navy.

The aeroplane as an adjunct to military operations has already shown its value both in Tripoli and in Turkey. Besides dropping bombs upon Turks and Arabs it has proved of greater usefulness in reconnoitering the position of the enemy. The Bulgarians have gone a step further and have used the aeroplane for fire control purposes, enabling the battery commanders of the field guns to train their weapons so as to make them tell most effectively against the Sultan's forces. This matter of fire control is as vital to a navy as to an army in action, especially when the guns of a fleet are searching out the weak spots in the land defenses. But heretofore the aeroplane has been less available for navy than for army use.

The catapult tested in Washington is the invention of Captain Chambers of the navy, and is the outcome of various lessons learned while trying to adapt the aeroplane to the needs of the navy. The practicability of sending aeroplanes in flight from a suitable platform on board ship was early demonstrated, but there were various minor problems to be solved. The launching platforms employed were both long and cumbersome. They took up space that would not be available in time of war, and they blocked the way of some of the guns.

The runway or sloping platform was a more prohibitive. With short track substituted which could be easily and quickly put in place and just as quickly dismantled and rolled out of the way, there arose the question of a means of starting the aeroplane effectively. For this purpose Captain Chambers devised the catapult. For years he had specialized in torpedoes and was familiar with the devices successfully tried in getting those weapons overboard from a boat. The catapult tried at Annapolis last summer was a sort of modified torpedo launching outfit of a earlier type, and compressed air was employed to give the initial push.

The trial mechanism was of necessity rather crude, but this fact did not deter Lieutenant Ellyson from submitting himself in a hydroaeroplane to the extreme shock of the device in order to find out the effects of such concussion, not only upon the air pilot, but likewise upon the motor mechanism and other fittings which might be wrenched loose or deranged at test was entirely satisfactory in lessons, but the aviator and his machine got a ducking.

The catapult lately tried at the Washington navy yard is devised so that the hydroaeroplane attains its launching speed without violence, and insures the launching of the machine without fear of dislodging any of the apparatus or dislodging the aviator from his seat. The runway starting track is short and can be in position in several places on fighting ship without interfering with the maneuvering of the guns or impeding any other operation of importance.

Of course the demonstration at Washington over the Potomac river did fairly ideal weather conditions not a counterpart of what may confront the naval aviator at sea, but so as the actual getting away from a ship is concerned that function is promised under any circumstances which on shore would warrant an aviator in trying to go up in the air.

The other side of the problem that of returning to the ship again, here success is likely.

Glenn H. Curtiss has devised a form float or boat for his hydroaeroplane which is able of sustaining the flying machine when waves of considerable size are running, and this will be taken advantage of when the hydroaeroplane returns from its scouting expedition. The aviator will alight with his machine upon the water on the sheltered side of the vessel, and, thus protected from the stronger sweep of wind and wave, the air pilot and his apparatus will be easily hoisted aboard.

Developments in other directions are increasing day by day the reliability of the aeroplane and its value as a military implement. Just as the self-starter has added to the convenience of the up-to-date automobile, a similar device is contributing to the efficiency of the hydroaeroplane as part of the equipment of a fighting ship. With a good self-starter, by which the air pilot can set his motor going from his seat, and with a launching apparatus like that devised by Captain Chambers, the aircraft will be able to assume its own propulsion the instant it leaves the runway of the catapult.

It is not enough, however, simply to get the flying machine into the air; the scouting aviator has a lot to attend to after he is aloft and started upon his mission.

Until a short while ago the air pilot had his hands dangerously full of things to be manipulated in order to sustain him safely in flight, and a moment's inattention was pretty certain to invite trouble if not disaster. He had no opportunity to make observation of the land beneath him or to release bombs intended to hit a certain spot on the landscape below. The airman therefore needed a companion whose duties should be limited to reconnoitering and to dropping projectiles upon the enemy.

Now it happened that the machines used by the Italians in Tripoli were not weight carriers, and it was therefore out of the question to support a second person in them. Accordingly the aviator had to do all the work himself, and this explains why bombs dropped from aeroplanes so often failed to hit their mark. The Italian dirigible balloons, on the other hand, because they could be maneuvered deliberately and could lift a number of persons, were successful as bomb throwers, and what they did showed what could be expected of a flying machine properly built for military work.

As a result of study a number of devices have been developed which make it possible now to insure to a large degree the automatic control of an aeroplane's equilibrium, and other apparatus is being perfected which reduces the demands upon the aviator. Quite apart from the military importance of these later inventions, the physical and nervous stresses upon the aviator are fewer. These have proved so exhausting during the war between Italy and Turkey that the pilots have become incapacitated after six months of service, and doctors declare a rest period of at least two years is needed in order to insure their recuperation and fitness again for duty with the flying squadron.

Among the helpful apparatus now being developed by an American firm is a gyroscopic device which gives promise of success in maintaining the stability of an aeroplane in flight. Captain Chambers is engaged in the construction of an aerial compass which will not only give directional guidance, but will also compensate for the drift or sidewise movement of the flying machine.

On the other side of the Atlantic instrument makers have been working away at the same problem with more or less success. The market supply of such apparatus is not large. That there is need of just such an aid to aerial navigation is evidenced by the fact that a German firm was suddenly denounced of its supply by the demands of the war in the Balkans. It is safe to say that no small share of the effective aid rendered by the Bulgarian flying corps has been directly due to these instruments.

In the past aviation generally has been encouraged more as a sporting proposition than an art susceptible of practical benefits, and this has really hurt aviation more than it has helped. Speed has appealed pre-eminently to racing men and to what may appropriately be termed the nautical amateurs, and in some senses this speed has saved more lives than it has sacrificed of its employment. The victorious Vedrines strongly advocates speed on the score that it makes for safety by offsetting or combating more successfully atmospheric vagaries while in flight, but this element of high velocity multiplies the hazard or the difficulty of alighting as well as increasing the danger of engine trouble and shortness of the life of the motor.

For war purposes an aeroplane motor should work efficiently at different speeds because varying drive power will be needed for dissimilar services. A motor of this sort would lend itself to relatively low speed so that the flying machine could return to the ground much as a vessel slackens her headway when coming up to her dock. Captain Chambers has a very definite opinion upon this subject, which he explains as follows:

"A weight carrying aeroplane, such as a hydroaeroplane, necessarily needs a motor with considerable range of speed, and the same kind of motor is needed to reduce the danger of alighting. I think aviation would be improved if the terms of future speed contests were arranged so as to require each contestant to go over the course twice—the second time at an average speed 20 per cent. lower than his highest average."

The layman has heard so much of anti-balloon guns and other weapons for the annihilation of all kinds of aircraft, that he pictures the flying machine as being knocked into bits by the precise fire of these weapons. As a matter of fact, during the war in Tripoli the Italian aeroplanes were but seldom hit, never disastrously, and when up in the air three thousand feet they were not touched at all. American naval aviators, with their hydroaeroplanes, have proved that it is entirely feasible for them to reach this height, and so far as endurance of flight is concerned, they hold the record—Lieutenant Towers of the navy having traveled for six hours ten minutes and twenty seconds in a standard navy Curtiss hydroaeroplane. Inventors have developed an aeroplane wireless outfit of very moderate weight, and with this equipment aviators are able to cover a range of fifty miles.

The next naval conflict is likely to find hydroaeroplanes a feature of the essential equipment of all large men-of-war, and the flying machine must be considered seriously and not as a mere fad or a mechanical achievement of no material value. In peace-time maneuvers the French have clearly shown that the aeroplane is capable of doing scout duty of an important character, detecting not only ships upon the water, but the presence of submarines supposedly hidden below the surface of the sea; and recent experiments with armor piercing bombs—dropped from aircraft—have turned a new page in the art of warfare.

BIGELOW IS HONORED

Union College Plans Memorial to Author and Diplomat.

Committee Raising $100,000 for Reclination Hall and Professorship at Schenectady Institution—Was 17 When He Graduated.

Schenectady, N. Y.—Plans are rapidly being perfected at Union college for the establishment of an elaborate memorial in honor of John Bigelow, the author and diplomat, whose long life of service ended in New York on December 10, 1911. John Bigelow was a Union man of the class of 1835, and was for many years the oldest living alumnus of the college. The memorial is to take the form of a reclination hall which will bear Mr. Bigelow's name and a professorship in political science, and for these two purposes at least $100,000 must be raised. A committee, of which Joseph H. Choate is chairman, has dedicated itself to the raising of this fund, and the circulars calling for subscriptions will soon be sent out.

"It is felt," says this committee, "that the most fitting memorial would be a building erected on the campus of his Alma Mater at Schenectady, N. Y., with lecture halls and rooms devoted to the studies he loved, history, politics, and literature, and the establishment there in of a John Bigelow professorship of political science. The building would be named the 'John Bigelow Memorial Hall,' and would stand on the main avenue of the college grounds entered through the gateway erected to the memory of John Howard Payne, author of 'Home, Sweet Home,' a member of the class of 1810 at Union college.

"The service of John Bigelow to his country in the dark days of the Civil war should always be gratefully remembered. While William H. Seward, his fellow-graduate of Union college, was managing brilliantly the affairs of the department of state, John Bigelow, as minister to France, was successful in the delicate task of maintaining our national credit in the countries of Europe. Throughout the whole of his long life he devoted his powers without stint to unselfish and untiring effort in the service of his fellow-men.

"He held a place in the esteem and affection of his countrymen held by no other man, and when he died at the age of ninety-four his right to the title of 'The First Citizen of New York' was not questioned. We are confident that this plan will be received by many as a welcome opportunity to serve at once the double purpose of stimulating the spirit of patriotism and of doing honor to the memory of one whose name should be held among us in grateful remembrance. In the last few years of his life Mr. Bigelow turned with peculiar affection to his old college, and a memorial serving such a useful purpose in the fitting of young men for citizenship is one which he would warmly approve."

Contributions may be sent to the treasurer of the committee, Oswald Garrison Villard of the New York Evening Post. Other members of the committee are Justice Charles E. Hughes, J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry Fairfield Osborn, George A. Plimpton, Ellphalet Nott Potter, Andrew Carnegie, Ellhu Root, John L. Cadwalader, Joseph E. Ransdell, and President Richmond of Union.

To Stop Scenes in Russian Duma.
London.—A Russian engineer has offered to install in the duma an apparatus of his invention which is designed by the mere pressure of a button, to render it impossible for any deputy to rise to his feet. In this way, Darkest Russia says, he claims that all demonstrations and unseemly scenes can be prevented. M. Rodzianko, the president of the duma, submitted the offer for the consideration of the presidential board. The board was of the opinion that the duma could dispense with such an appliance.

Hopeless Case.
Miss Irene Gillicuddy, of Millville, Miss., writes: "I have a gentleman friend who has been keeping company with me all this year, but who has never indicated or intimated that he wishes to be considered other than a friend of mine. I am nineteen years old, with ruby lips, rose-pink cheeks, golden hair, azure eyes and a gentle disposition. Do you think I should hang up some mistletoe and accidentally stand beneath it while he is around, just to encourage him?"

"Irene, if a young man needs the encouragement of mistletoe under the circumstances, there is no hope for him."

Everybody's Doing It.
The premier of Serbia once upon a time had a round of official calls to make in the ministry building. His first visit was at eleven o'clock and he had allotted 15 minutes to it.

He called on a certain high official, stood talking to him for what he thought was his 15 minutes, and then proceeded across the hall to the office of another minister.

On the way there he sought to look at his watch. It was gone. He burst into the other minister's office and exclaimed:

"This is too much. Here I come to this place and call on a high official, and when I come out my watch is gone. I will not stand it!"

"Excellency," said the other minister, "pray be calm! I will see what I can do."

Presently the second minister returned and handed the premier his watch.

"What did the thieving rascal say when you made him return my watch?" asked the premier.

"Oh," replied the other minister, "he did not know I took it."

CUT OUT FOR A DIPLOMAT

A Labouchere anecdote which has been done to death is given in the volume of recollections by Sir Harry Lucy ("Toby, M. P."), to whom was told by Labby himself. It concerned the younger son of a peer who thought that a berth in the diplomatic service was as desirable a place as any for one who took life rather easily. He knew nothing of the special subjects upon which the preliminary examination was based, but there was at least the promise of a mark. As far as he could make out, he did not supply a single correct answer to the long list of questions. Nevertheless, he came out first in the competition. It was a surprise even for a confident young lordling. Meeting one of the examiners at dinner a few days later, he ventured to ask how the thing came about. "We at once saw

GAVE FASHION A SETBACK

English Woman Put Sudden End to Men's Idea of Bringing Back Side Whiskers.

Woman's influence is still dominant in all well-regulated families. Not long ago a number of young Englishmen decided that the day of clean shaven man was over. They, accordingly, determined "to set an old fashion on new faces;" that is, to grow side whiskers like those still worn by English men servants.

One husband went home to his wife, who had just returned from a visit to the country, quite unaware that she had heard of the new London fashion, and had planned a counter attack. He carefully arranged his pose for the entrance of his wife and alternately stroked his whiskers or smoothed his stock as he stood before the fire. His wife entered. She looked calmly at her husband.

"James," she said, "your master has not arrived, I see. He is probably dining at the club. You may serve dinner at once."

The husband had a sense of humor. He walked from the house without a word, called his whiskered allies together and told them the story. The next day West end barbers were kept busy.

CREAM OF GOTHAM "SOCIETY"

Knickerbocker Group the Most Desired and Sought After of Any Coterie in America.

To the true old New York Knickerbocker all the modern world is a sham and a froth. For them there is no United States west of Buffalo; no one of any respectability lives above Fourteenth street; and to have been born poor and dishonest enough to have made a fortune is much less reprehensible than paying money for marrying a title. With them the chief virtue in life is to have been born rich and honest; i. e., in the "set."

These form the most exclusive circle in social New York. They see no one but each other. They have no country relatives, because the family has never been permitted to marry outside the little group. They refuse to recognize the perversus who have come in and are making things hum. In their eyes all American authors are dead and all living authors Europeans; hence they permit themselves no intellectual diversion. Their mental life is one of dead memories and living reproaches. Their social life is one of mediocrity and echoes.

Yet this group is the most desired and most sought after of any in America. Many a new millionaire would write a substantial check with alacrity to be invited to one of these shabby old downtown homes. Such invitations are sought for, prized and commented on more than any other.

It is comparatively easier to be presented at almost any European court, except the Russian and the Turkish, than to be properly presented to an old Knickerbocker family.

Use Bellows to Skin Goats.

Great quantities of Mocha goatskins are imported from Aden, on the Gulf of Aden, into this country, many skins coming from Africa. The Abyssinians and Somalis are considered the most expert in skinning goats. The former rarely permits his knife to touch the animal after killing and during the skinning process, and by the means of a bellows removes the skin in an excellent condition. Somali women are also very adept in this art and exercise great care throughout.

Moral indifference. If ignorance and passion are the foes of popular morality, it must be confessed that the cultivated classes, the modern separation of enlightenment and virtue, of thought and conscience, of the intellectual aristocracy from the honest and vulgar crowd, is the greatest danger that can threaten liberty. — Henri Frederic Amiel.

Effort Wasted. "What makes me really mad," said the woman, "is to spend minutes, maybe hours, trying to get hold of a white hair that shows up on my head like a dazzling light, yet which is tantalizingly elusive when I try to catch it, and then when I do finally separate it from the brown hair and give it a vigorous pull, to find that I have snatched out a good brown hair and left the white one still shining!"

Does Memory Go on Strike? Can the human memory go on strike, leaving the other tangible and intangible parts of the mental and physical makeup to continue their ordinary work-a-day routine? Will this explain the strange disappearances and wanderings about of men and women which occur so frequently?

Visible Evidence. One day a teacher was having a first-grade class in physiology. She asked them if they knew that there was a burning fire in the body all of the time. One little girl spoke up and said: "Yes'm, when it is a cold day I can see the smoke." — National Monthly.

THE CASE IN

AW IS VALID

Right to Fix Charges
Rate Traffic in Its Own
Lanes — Division
Unanimous.

Washington, June 11.—The state of Minnesota won a substantial victory in the Supreme court when the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad cases were decided. The court ruled in favor of the rates of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads.

The decision was a victory for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads. The court ruled in favor of the state on the interstate commerce clause of the constitution and upon the portions of the act affecting the Minneapolis and St. Louis.

The so-called "state rate" cases have presented to the Supreme court one of the most important problems of the decade.

In general terms, this group of cases called upon the court to decide two questions. One was whether the states in passing maximum freight and passenger laws had unduly interfered with interstate commerce. The other was whether those laws confiscated the property of the railroads by requiring them to transact business at a loss.

The group consisted of 45 cases. All arose out of legislation enacted by state legislatures about 1907, or just after the federal government had passed the Hepburn rate law. The 45 cases concerned directly the laws in six states—Missouri, Minnesota, Kentucky, Oregon, Arkansas and West Virginia. Similar litigation arose in Alabama, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and South Dakota. In all, it was said that 76 suits in federal courts depended upon the decision in the 45
cases before the Supreme court.

The Minnesota cases arose out of suits by stockholders of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroads against the companies to enjoin them from obeying the maximum freight and passenger laws as unconstitutional, and against the state officials to enjoin them from enforcing the laws.
Judge Sanborn of the United States circuit court of Minnesota held the laws unconstitutional, of a constitutional nature, and that they burdened interstate commerce. The three suits were appealed to the Supreme court.

Convictions of five officials of the American Naval Stores company at Savannah—the so-called turpentine case—were set aside by the Supreme court in the trial judge.
Officials of the company, who had been generally unfavorable to the criminal section of the Sherman law,
"They never considered that they had a strong case."

Holding that one shipper cannot sue for rebates as damages because competitors received rebates, the Supreme court reversed the decision of the Pennsylvania courts awarding to the International Coal Mining company of the Clearfield region of Pennsylvania a judgment of $12,000 against the Pennsylvania railroad. Justice Pitney, dissenting, declared the decision practically annulled the right of the shippers to sue for damages conferred by recent legislation, leaving a right to sue only in the almost negligible instances where the goods of a shipper came into competition with competitors who received rebates.

Government Brings Suit to Dissolve Eastman Kodak Concern for Alleged Violation of Sherman Act.

Washington, June 11.—The federal government Monday began proceedings to smash the kodak trust.
In a civil suit filed at Buffalo by order of Attorney General McReynolds the government asks dissolution of the government, if necessary, of the Eastman Kodak company, which is charged with monopolizing the trade in photographic supplies in violation of the Sherman law.

It is the aim of the government to obtain a division of the assets and business of the Eastman company controlling 72 per cent. of the business in the United States into such parts as will effectually destroy the alleged monopoly and restore competition.

38 MEN FACE

PICKETS FOUND GUILTY
LAWFUL ASSEMBLY.

Jail Woman for Contempt—17-
Old Leader Arrested So Often Patience Grows Tired.

Paterson, N. J., June 7.—A jury
Judge Klenert's quarter sessions court Thursday found 38 strike pickets
the silk workers guilty of unlawfully assembling in front of the Harding on April 26, and all now face a 1-year term in prison and a fine of both.

Among those convicted are John Silverman, the seventeen-year-old picket leader, and Benjamin Horn,
a local leader of the I. W. W.
Miss Silverman has been arrested
so many times that the police are exhausted. After two days' jail for interfering with a policeman she got out on a writ of certiorari.

She went to Recorder Carroll's court as a spectator at the trial of Harry Price, a striker tested for beating two women millworkers. In the course of an argument between the recorder and lawyer Miss Silverman, appearing for Price, Miss Silverman uttered the words:

"Come up here," ordered the judge.
"You're getting altogether too fresh around here. I come you to the county jail for 20 days as a disorderly person in a public place."

So Hannah is in jail and seems likely to stay there until the strike is ended.

WOOD FREE, COLLINS GUILTY

Jurors in Dynamite Case Fail to Agree on Atteaux, Third Defendant on Trial.

Boston, June 9.—William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, was acquitted on the charge of conspiracy to injure the textile industry through "plant sabotage." The jury disagreed in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux, Dennis Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts and not guilty on the four other counts of the indictment.

The fact that Collins was not called for sentence, lent color to a report that he had earned a suspension of sentence regarding the matter of another trial for Atteaux.

The court ordered that bail for At-teaux be renewed pending disposition of his case.

IS CHIEF LOBBYIST

TOWNSEND INFLUENCES
CLARERS FOR TARIFF BILL.

IT MAY BE ACCIDENTAL

Washington, June 9.—Senator Townsend of Michigan threw the lobby committee into an uproar Friday when he virtually charged that the methods and influence used by President Wilson and the Democrats in forcing congressmen into line on the tariff bill constituted the "nearest approach to undue influence upon members of congress" that could be found.

Senator Townsend criticized the committee for not having asked members of the senate whether the president had sought to influence them,
and declared even though the president had not intended it, his recent denunciation of "lobbies" working in support of changes in the tariff, would force certain senators to vote against amendments they knew to be just.

"Who are those senators?" demanded Senator Reed.
"I don't care to name any one," replied Townsend.

The two Democratic members of the committee present, Senators Reed and Walsh, indignantly resented any imputation President Wilson had used patronage or threats to force any one to support the bill as a whole. Senator Townsend insisted the committee had not asked any senator thus far whether President Wilson had tried to influence him.

"I move," interrupted Senator Walsh,
"that in view of the serious statements made touching the executive,
that any senator who has already testified may be recalled and interrogated
in reference thereto."

"I am for that," said Senator Nelson, and members of the committee agreed.
Senator Weeks of Massachusetts,
also a Republican, following Senator Townsend on the witness stand, expressed the opinion that executives had had more influence in bills than all the persons put together who had come to Washington.

WOMAN DIES FROM FRIGHT

Succumbs When Auto Frightens Horse
She Is Driving, and Death Follows.

Paris, Tenn., June 9.—An automobile was the direct cause of frightening Mrs. Rosetta Vandye to death here. Late in the evening the woman drove to town in a buggy, an automobile whizzed by and the horse she was driving shied. Mrs. Vandye became helpless, being carried from her buggy to a drug store, where she died soon after. Fright, said physicians, caused attack of heart failure.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY CHARGE
UNION MEN BREAK SHERMAN
ACT IN WEST VIRGINIA.

SEE PLOT TO FIX PRICES

Conspiracy With Coal Operators Alleged to Prevent Competition in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia—First Test of Kind.

Charleston, W. Va., June 10.—The federal grand jury here on Saturday returned indictments against President John P. White and 18 other officials of the United Mine Workers of America charging them with having violated the Sherman anti-trust law.

It is alleged the defendants conspired with the coal operators of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to raise wages in the West Virginia coal field so as to prevent its competition with the four other states in the western market.

Besides White those named in the indictment are: Frank J. Hayes, vice-president; Thomas Haggerty, Joseph Vasey, James Cantrell, Charles Hat-
ley, Marco Roman, George H. Edmonds and Benjamin F. Morris, organizers, and Thomas Cairns, president;
Clarence C. Griffith, vice-president;
James M. Crago, secretary; James Diana, John Nutter, Rome Mitchell, W.
S. Reece, F. D. Stanley, U. S. Cantley
and A. D. Lavender, subordinate officers, all of district No. 17.

The indictments charge that the national organization of the miners fixes
the wages of miners of Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio and intends to unionize the miners in West Virginia, so as to fix the price at which coal of West Virginia can be sold in outside markets, thus permitting the competitive states to compete more favorably in the western market with the product shipped from West Virginia.

The markets specified are those of Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis and Chil-dago. The object of the conspiracy, it is charged, is to restrict the sale of West Virginia coal in these markets.

The offense is said to have started September 1, 1912, and continued to date. The alleged conspiracy has resulted in much violence and lawlessness at the mines of the West Virginia operators on Point and Cabin creeks.

Loss of life and destruction of property necessitated martial law.
The indictments were said to be the first ever returned in which officials of the United Mine Workers were charged with violating the federal anti-trust act.

It was commented that the indictment came at a time when federal legislation was pending to exempt labor unions from prosecution under the Sherman law.

MILITANT DIES FOR CAUSE

Emily Davison, Who Halted King's Horse in Derby Race, Succumbs to Injuries.

Epsom, England, June 10.—Miss Emily Davison died in Epsom hospital Sunday, where she was removed in a serious condition after having thrown herself in front of the king's horse, Anmer, during the running of the Derby last week.

Although Miss Davison was badly injured and unconscious for several hours after she reached the hospital, the physicians for a time believed she had a chance for recovery. On Friday an operation was found necessary, but she failed to rally from this and remained in a semi-conscious condition
until her death.

Miss Davison received the injuries
from which she died when she dashed onto the Epsom Downs course during the running of the Derby and seized the bridle of Anmer as the bunch of horses were swinging into the stretch.

The horse stumbled and fell, throwing and severely injuring Jockey Jones and crushing Miss Davison. However, her most serious injuries were received when Anmer arose and trampled on her prostrate body.

Miss Davison has been one of the most active militants in Great Britain and has been sentenced to jail eight times since 1909 for her activities in connection with the votes for women campaign.

Mrs. and Mrs. Pethrick Lawrence,
Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, Miss
Christabel Pankhurst and Mrs. Mabel
"Juke," representing the Woman's Social and Political Union, were condemned by the king's bench court to pay $1,840 damages in a suit brought by a number of West End London shopkeepers for damage done by window-smashing during suffrage raids.

As this was a test case it is expected that many similar suits will follow.

Couple's Grief Too Great.

New York, June 10.—To join in death the three-year-old daughter whose passing was the end of all joy
for them, Dominick Jardina and wife ended their lives Sunday in each other's arms in a gas filled room.

Accused of $7,500 Theft.

Kansas City, June 10.—Clarence H.
Dickson, manager of the Missouri District Telegraph company here, was arrested Saturday, charged with misappropriating $7,500 of the company's money. He was taken to jail.

"Tama Jim" Goes Abroad.

New York, June 10.—James Wilson, former secretary of agriculture, and Henry Wallace of Iowa, an authority on agriculture, sailed for England Saturday to make an exhaustive study of the English tenant farmer.

TESTIMONY NOT OF MOMENT

Daniel Frohman, as an "Expert Witness," Put Forth Little to Elucidate Case.

Daniel Frohman, who is always called as an expert witness when there are questions of the stage to be decided, was one of those who gave testimony in William Harcourt's suit to obtain royalties from George Broadhurst for having helped him to place
his play, "The Man From Home,"
"What," they asked Mr. Frohman,
"is a 'Broadway production'?"
"A production that is put on in first-class style at a Broadway theater," answered the witness after deep thought.

But the answer was stricken from the record.

"Does it benefit an actor to be seen in a Broadway production?" asked the actor's lawyer.

Mr. Frohman looked suspiciously at the judge and then answered: "If he appears to his benefit it does."

"Move to strike it out" came from the opposite side.

"Granted," in the court's monotone.
Then the expert was allowed to go.

OF COURSE IT WAS THAT ONE

Given Two Pennies for a Set Purpose
Which Would a Boy Naturally Prefer to Lose?

Dull and gray was the afternoon.
Slowly, with reluctant footsteps, Walter William made his way toward the Sunday school. If the truth be told in one fell swoop, he was not a lover of Sunday school, and were it not for parental compulsion, would easily have found some other way of congenially passing the time.

As so often happens when one is down in the dumps, another bitter blow was in store for Walter William.
He had two beautiful new pennies, one for the Sunday school, and its brother for the purpose of buying sweets, or some similar delicacy.

Unhappily he lost one of the bright new coins, and in due time reported the event at the maternal headquarters.

"But, Walter, which of the two pennies did you lose?"

Back came the reply like a rifle bullet:

"Oh, the Sunday school one, mother, of course!"

RASH ON FACE FOR 2 YEARS

Sioux Falls, S. D.—"My trouble of skin disease started merely as a rash on my face and neck, but it grew and kept getting worse until large scabs would form, fester and break. This was just on the one side of my face, but it soon scattered to the other side. I suffered a great deal, especially at night, on account of its itching and burning. I would scratch it and of course that irritated it very much.

This rash was on my face for about two years, sometimes breaking out lots worse and forming larger sores.
It kept me from sleeping day or night for a couple of months. My face looked disgraceful and I was almost ashamed to be seen by my friends.

"A friend asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I would bathe my face with hot water and use a lot of Cuticura Soap, then I would put on the Cuticura Ointment. In less than two days' time, the soreness and inflammation had almost entirely disappeared, and in four weeks' time you could not see any of the rash. Now my face is without a spot of any kind.
I also use them for my scalp and hair.
They cured me completely." (Signed)
Miss Pansy Hutchins, Feb. 6, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address

Dr. Jones took the education of the three boys as a personal matter. He gave them all the time possible, and provided the plain language teaching and the regular highly polished courses in philosophy, philology, apologetics. He dipped into the Gospels for some of the great sayings there, and gave the students a lecture thereon. He was able to give them a month's journey in his remarks.

The boys did not stir a muscle, and Dr. Jones was totally at a loss to tell whether his efforts had made an impression upon those mute and immobile orientals.

"Have I made myself plain?" he asked.

Three heads nodded.

"I should be glad to go over the ground again," he said, "if you are not quite sure you got what I was saying."

And then the middle statue of Buddha spoke:

"We gotcha, Steve," he said.
